

An abstract painting with a vibrant, textured surface. The colors are primarily shades of green, yellow, and blue, with some orange and red tones in the upper left. The brushstrokes are visible and expressive, creating a sense of movement and depth. The overall composition is non-representational and focuses on color and texture.

My name is Abdullah Yildirim I'm in 8-th grade. I live in the neighborhood "Vullnetari" in Elbasan. I live with my mom and my sister in a small house. My mom is unemployed and our only income is the money of social help that is a very small amount. Monthly expenditures don't even compare to incomes In this case we are not talking about savings. We have always been forced to borrow from an affair. So from the seventh grade that one year ago our livelihood started to be even better because the Project has been a great helper and supporters by providing meals of school supplies, other tools etc. In February 2017 one group from Netherlands visited the school "Fadil Gurmani" and they donated packages that contained various items donated by Dutch school pupils ,but in my opinion those packages did not contain objects or simple items that were ,contrary those items or objects were a sign of love and peace because giving something does not only mean helping a person, but also happiness and forgiveness. Thank you from the depths of my heart and I wish the Scampa Kids project collaboration with ECE Foundation support us strongly .
