

An abstract painting featuring a vibrant palette of colors. The composition is dominated by various shades of green, ranging from light lime to deep forest green. Interspersed among these are patches of bright yellow and orange, particularly in the upper left and center. The lower right portion of the painting transitions into shades of blue and teal. The brushwork is expressive and textured, with visible strokes and some areas where the colors appear to be layered or mixed together. The overall effect is one of dynamic energy and naturalistic inspiration.

I'm David Mehilli and I am student of "Abdyl Paralloi" school in 9-th grade. I and my parents live in a barracks forgiven by a building firm at the edge of Shkumbini River. Our conditions are very bad. I try to come and stay in school every day, to be active and this has been facilitated by the Scampa kids Project giving us all the necessary things for the lessons.